Elmhurst, Illinois Elmhurst is a village in the northeastern corner of Kane County, Illinois, USA, within the municipality of Elgin, Illinois. As of the 2010 census, Elmhurst had a total population of 7,931. Elmhurst is included in the Elgin, Illinois Metropolitan Statistical Area. History Elmhurst was founded in 1871 and incorporated on May 11, 1875. The village was built by the Riverside Mining Company, a brick company. The first settlers to the town were John B. Stoner, Peter Seitz and Conrad Schuller. The township headquarters were set up in a ballyard, which was used to house workers that were building the downtown. John B. Stoner, the founder of Elmhurst, had intended to name the town Schiller Park, after Richard Wagner's opera, but the village was named after Martin Elm, a common name of elm trees in Illinois. The village was heavily forested when first laid out. Many street names were based on the forest, such as Oak, Maple, Birch, Poplar and Mulberry. Two streetcar lines operated in Elmhurst until the early 20th century. The Royal Crest Inn was built in 1911, and housed some of the town's first businesses including a grocery store, a gas station, a restaurant, a barber shop, and a shoe repair shop. A historical walking tour of Elmhurst started in 2010. Geography Elmhurst is located at (42.509130, -88.523868). According to the 2010 census, Elmhurst has a total area of, all land. Demographics As of the census of 2000, there were 5,974 people, 2,313 households, and 1,700 families residing in the village. The population density was 3,428.3 people per square mile (1,314.6/km²). There were 2,426 housing units at an average density of 1,458.0 per square mile (560.5/km²).
